UNDER THE SKIN

Dear Member of Parliament,

I have read Under the Skin: A People's Case for Prison Needle and Syringe Programs, produced by the Canadian HIV/AIDS Legal Network. The personal stories of incarcerated people are eloquent and the evidence is compelling: Canada should implement needle and syringe programs in prisons to help protect against the spread of HIV, hepatitis and other diseases. This has been done successfully in other countries and recommended here for years by many medical, legal and prison system experts. We need our elected officials to stand up for what is right and what makes good sense for public health. Please let me know what you can do as a parliamentarian to make sure these health programs are put in place before it costs more lives and money.
